

OVERVIEW

Colaiste Edmund Rice is the oldest school on Cork's southside. Originally founded in 1828 on Sullivan's Quay by the Christian Brother, our school has evolved over the years to reach the changing needs of Cork City and its young people and is now a co-educational school.

As an Edmund Rice Schools Trust School we are inspired by the vision of our founder, Brother Edmund Rice who devoted his life to the service of others. We are privileged to serve our local community. We challenge each student to fulfil their unique potential as a student and a human being.

TRANSITION YEAR

Transition Year is a one year optional programme. The students continue to cover the core subjects of Irish, English and Maths. They can then choose from a wide variety of subjects which change each year some of which they will do for a 10 week period and others are modules that they will cover in cycles to give them an insight into different aspects of education and life general. The programme encourages personal, social development and fosters academic achievement.
